

Step One Survey II[®] Quick Reference Guide

Low	Attitude Scales	High
Expresses a low level of respect for the property of others Tends to rationalize larcenous behavior	Integrity - represents an applicant's attitudes concerning theft of money, property, data, or time. High Integrity scores represent a clear understanding of the conventional wisdom concerning theft and property/asset ownership.	Respects property Avoids rationalizing larcenous behavior
Accepts a situational perspective concerning theft	At the low end, an individual is less likely to express attitudes of respect for the property of others.	Socially responsible
Takes an open-minded approach concerning illegal drug use Tends to rationalize	Substance Abuse - represents an applicant's attitudes concerning personal use or distribution of illegal chemical substances.	Condemns illegal drug use Understands the safety drug use on the job	High Substance Abuse scores represent a lack of self-identification with drug-oriented behavior.	issues related to drug use on the job
Tends to disregard the safety issues associated with drug use in the workplace	Lower scores suggest an open attitude concerning drug use that is often associated with those who use or distribute illegal substances.	Does not create rationalizations for drug use
Is not particularly trustful of the motivations of others Tends to rationalize cautious behavior Possesses a care-free attitude about tardiness and accountability	Reliability - represents an applicant's attitudes concerning the following of procedures in the workplace. High Reliability scores represent a good understanding of what is expected of an employee to be considered prompt, trustworthy, and accountable. A low scorer tends to express a lack of appreciation for rules and restrictions, whether he or she actually obeys the rules or not.	Has confidence in the motivations of others Appreciates promptness Understands the importance of accountability
Prefers a great amount of personal freedom at work Tends to rationalize careless performance Attitude about authority may be quite casual	Work Ethic - represents an applicant's attitudes concerning his or her perception of the relative value of work and supervisory relationships. High Work Ethic scores represent an understanding of what is expected of an employee to be considered principled and compliant in the workplace. A low scorer tends to express a lack of appreciation for the principles typically considered to be representative of ethical and compliant behavior in the workplace.	Accepts the restraints of typical office procedure Understands the need for compliance with rules and standards Understands that they play a different role than their supervisor.